

Just a Little of This & That

Thanks, Dear Lady

The morning started out perfectly lovely at The News office this morning when a Dear Lady called this office and greeted us with, "Hello, how are you all this lovely morning?" Immediately the mere man who answered the telephone imagined that The News crew was getting popular for when a dear lady calls and takes such interest in everyone on the job, it indicates that when it comes to popularity we're there.

But rising to dizzy heights of popularity is not for The News crew, for further conversation brought out the fact that the Dear Lady had the wrong number.

Wouldn't that make you go out in the backyard and eat a long, crawling, hairy, wriggling, fat, warm worm.

He Shivered, Too

An item appearing in a Southern Michigan paper states: "T. H. Spicer says that he shivered as he took the train in Los Angeles, Cal., for home a couple of weeks ago. Spicer wore his overcoat down there the same as he does here and he was not impressed with the balmy character of California weather. He left Dee Barnes and family in Hollywood."

It's too bad that Spicer shivered while here, for a lot of us have shivered in the winter and perspired in summer for many moons, yet we like it here. If Spicer had taken the train out of Los Angeles on Monday of this week, great beads of perspiration would have dropped from his noble brow, for it was 90 that day. Mr. Spicer probably doesn't believe this, but if he will write to his friend Dee Barnes, who was in Hollywood that day, Mr. Barnes will tell him of the winter weather we are having here just now.

No sane person in this southern state ever claimed that a shiver was never shivered here; no person in his right mind ever claimed that we picked dollars off the trees and that life was one continuous sweet dream; no one to date ever stated that an eastern inefficient individual could come here and make a fortune in a few months. Our weather often changes and there are days when it is just what we need that are disagreeable, and there are years when there are a hundred of them, but what difference does that make. Competition in business is keen here, and if you haven't the ability and ordinary horse sense to know that there isn't a heaven on earth and that in order to live you must work—may the Lord help you, for no one else will.

He Doesn't Know

According to the weather man it should rain, and perhaps it will, who knows—the weather man doesn't.

Accident's Right

Harlow S. Wilson stated the other night, "A year ago Friday of this week Southern California had an accident." Accident is right, but indications are we won't have one in January this year, for summer weather prevails to such an extent that blooms have an excellent start and growers of citrus and deciduous fruit are concerned for fear that winter may show up at the wrong time. If it wasn't for the antics of the weather man, the insistence of the income tax collector, meeting the monthly bills—all of these things tend to impress us here in Southern California that we are still inhabitants of the earth, earthy.

REV. STONE TALKS TO ROTARIANS

Members of the Upland Rotary Club had as their guest today at their noonday luncheon Rev. R. C. Stone of the First Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Stone addressed the men on Boy Scout work here from its earliest inception several years ago, and traced its history down to the present time. At present, under the direction of C. W. Alford, Scoutmaster, there are troops organized in every part of the Chaffey district and in Chino. Scores of citizens are giving their time for the active leadership of these troops. The boys have their mountain cabin where vacation trips and week-end hikes are enjoyed. Educational trips, talks on vital subjects and supervised athletic activity are among the phases of the scout work. Some six hundred boys are enrolled in the Scout troops and the organizations for smaller boys that are cared for by Mr. Alford.

Rev. Stone is unusually equipped to talk on Boy Scout work, for he was the man who organized and directed the work some years ago, and has always taken a keen interest in the activities of the boys.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Stone received the first certificate ever issued by the State Board of Education for Boy Scout activities.

SPIRIT OF PROGRESS PREVAILS AT THE ANNUAL MEETING OF C. OF C.

Radio Concert Proves Excellent

Program

OVER HUNDRED ATTEND

1922 Proved Successful Year
In City Building, 1923
Outlook Excellent

Annual meeting of the Upland Chamber of Commerce held at the Home Economics Building of Chaffey Union High School last night not only showed an excellent year's work just completed, but an outlook for the coming year which means much for the advancement of the city.

Owing to the fact that President G. A. Hanson has been ill and was unable to be present last night, 1st Vice-President Owen E. Atwood acted as chairman of the meeting and directed the program.

Following the dinner served by the Home Economics Department of Chaffey under the direction of Miss Lillian E. Graves, annual report of Secretary Glenn M. Atwood was called for. Among the many things accomplished by the Chamber during the year Mr. Atwood called particular attention to the following:

The Upland Chamber of Commerce has secured the co-operation of the power company and the telephone company in the removal of unsightly poles along the streets of the business district. Already the downtown streets show a great change, and during 1923 it is expected that the telephone lines will be put underground.

The Upland Chamber of Commerce has secured the establishment of a branch of the United States Weather Bureau for frost prevention work. In a season of frost danger this station will be of great value to the community.

The Upland Chamber of Commerce has co-operated with the Business Men's Association and the City of Upland in the erection of a large community electric sign at Ninth street and Euclid. Plans are under way for installation of a second sign across the Foothill Boulevard at Euclid Ave.

The Upland Chamber of Commerce obtained a hundred automobile plates and they are in service carrying the name of 'Upland' throughout the South. The Upland Chamber of Commerce has new community literature in preparation. A small illustrated folder will soon be issued, and plans have been made for the publishing of an artistic booklet that will be an attractive introduction to a beautiful city.

The Upland Chamber of Commerce, with the help of ranchers and producers, exhibited at the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona, fruit, flowers and honey products.

The Upland Chamber of Commerce has co-operated in completion of plans for installing ornamental lights on both sides of Ninth street from Euclid avenue to the business district. It is expected that the lights will be in service soon.

The Upland Chamber of Commerce has seen the Municipal Automobile Camp firmly established, and is going ahead with plans for the further improving and beautifying of the camp.

The Upland Chamber of Commerce has held a number of open meetings during the year, and topics of live interest have been presented by experts.

The Upland Chamber of Commerce has been active in furthering various projects that are not yet finished. Among these are the parking of the center of Euclid from the Santa Fe to the Foothill Boulevard, the building of a boulevard from Baldwin Park to El Monte that would give this community a route to Los Angeles some miles shorter than existing routes; securing the restoring of the "Angel" and the "Saint," the through trains to San Francisco on the Santa Fe; the securing of a Municipal Water System for the City of Upland.

The Upland Chamber of Commerce has handled the usual routine work, giving information about the community to visitors and correspondents, and has been

LAFOURCADE PLANS FINE HOME HERE

A deal has just been closed by which J. B. Lafourcade, owner of extensive vineyard property in the Cucamonga district, has purchased five acres of land on Mountain Avenue, north of San Antonio Park.

Mr. Lafourcade purchased the property for a home site, but has not fully decided just when he will build. The entire five acres will probably be used for the home and grounds, as Mr. Lafourcade has a very thorough and extensive way of doing things and the Lafourcade home on Mountain Avenue is destined to become one of the most attractive in this section.

WORKMEN WRECK RUEY BUILDING

Workmen are now busily tearing down the former Ruey Building, at the corner of Second avenue and Ninth street and within a few months will be erected there one of the most modern store buildings ever built here.

Contract was this week let by Mae the Medicine Man to the Campbell Construction Company and tearing down of the former Johnson & Brown and Campbell's Ready-to-Wear Shop locations is now under way.

The design of the new building is still a secret, that is, Mae the Medicine Man doesn't want to build the expectations of the people of the city to a too high degree, and when the building is complete find that some folks are disappointed in the result. In fact, he prefers to gradually unfold the idea as the building progresses and when the grand opening takes place have many surprises in store for the people of the city.

WHITE LIARS MEET HIS DISAPPROVAL

"White lies" by girls under the legal age of 18 years, at the marriage license bureau where they vow they are older, will not be winked at by District Attorney George H. Johnson, he declared yesterday.

The district attorney's edict was brought forth by a complaint for the annulment of the marriage of Lucille Sideman of Redlands, to Nyman William Sideman, in which the girl admitted she was married 18 days before her eighteenth birthday. She asked the courts to dissolve the wedding tie on this grounds, adding that she was married without the consent of her parents.

To the youths who lead girls to the altar without the consent of their parents, the district attorney pledged prosecution under charges of perjury. The laws prohibit the giving of false ages at the marriage license bureau, the district attorney pointed out.

During the past year, the divorce courts have been crowded with suits for annulment of marriages and, in practically every instance, the girl told the old, old story of a "white lie" to wed her lover.

The purported facts of the marriage of Nyman and Lucille Sideman were reported unofficially to District Attorney Johnson. He ordered an investigation of the wedding, which may lead another bit of trouble on the shoulders of the youthful husband.

District Attorney Johnson's decision to prosecute the youthful lovers who urge girls under the legal age to wed is designed to halt the practice of perjury at the marriage license bureau.

MAE MURRAY IN "BROADWAY ROSE"

Those who saw Mae Murray in "Peacock Alley" and "Fascination," at the Colonial some time ago, will be delighted to know she will appear at the same theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of this week in "Broadway Rose."

Miss Murray takes the part of a country girl, Rosalie Lawrence, who has become a favorite on Broadway and won fame as a dancer. Admired by many men, and surrounded by luxury and flattery, Rosalie finds her future happiness in the love of

LAST WILL OF HUGO SONTAG SURPRISE TO HIS FRIENDS

Leaves Entire Estate to His Friend William Jennings,
Date of Will, Dec. 22nd.

NEPHEW TO CONTEST WILL

Pioneer Wanted to Leave Estate
To Richard Sontag Six Days
Before Last Will Signed

Reading of the last will of Hugo Sontag brought surprise to the many friends and acquaintances of the pioneer who had resided at the entrance of Cucamonga Canyon for nearly fifty years.

Petition for probate of the will was filed by Mr. Sontag's friend, William Jennings, and it was generally supposed that the estate was willed to Richard Sontag, a nephew of Hugo Sontag, who was the only relative the deceased had in this country.

Reading of the will, however, revealed the fact that Mr. Sontag had left his property to William Jennings, the will being made on December 22nd, and witnessed by Mrs. Jennings and Miss Myers, the nurse who cared for Mr. Sontag during his last illness.

The day Hugo Sontag was found in a serious condition in his cabin at the entrance to Cucamonga Canyon, he made an effort to sign a will which left his estate to his nephew, Richard Sontag, but the senior Sontag was so weak that it was impossible for him to complete his signature.

The same day Mr. Sontag was brought to San Antonio Hospital and within a short time was greatly improved. The expense of hospital, doctors, nurses, etc., evidently worried Richard Sontag to such an extent that he insisted on Mr. Sontag being taken elsewhere.

William Jennings heard of the plan of the nephew and immediately went to the hospital and took Mr. Sontag to his home, where he provided him with every care. At first the indications were that Mr. Sontag would soon be about again, but his condition was such that he was unable to gain back his strength.

During the senior Sontag's stay at the Jennings home Richard Sontag was still insisting that his uncle be taken either back to the cabin or to the County Hospital, where the expense for his care would be much less. Finally he secured a court order to have his uncle removed to the county hospital, but Mr. Jennings stated that he couldn't be taken from his home, because it was only a matter of hours before Mr. Sontag would pass away.

Officers who had the court order called in physicians, who stated Mr. Sontag was dying and he could not be moved. Mr. Sontag's death occurred within twelve hours.

Learning of the contents of the will when it was filed for probate, Richard Sontag immediately employed Attorney Hert of San Bernardino to contest the will and indications are that the case will be a hard-fought one.

Mr. Jennings alleges that Mr. Sontag informed him that he didn't care to leave his property to his relatives and preferred that his friend, Mr. Jennings, should have it.

At the Sontag cabin, the week before, however, Mr. Sontag endeavored to sign a will leaving his property to his nephew, Richard Sontag, and when asked by his physician if he desired to sign the will, Mr. Sontag stated that he did, and made every effort to do so, but was too weak to write his name.

The Sontag holdings, consisting of about 200 acres of foothill land and a valuable water right, were recently sold to R. Schulhof and A. Henley for $15,000.00, it being stipulated in the sale that Hugo Sontag was allowed to reside on the property during his life.

Hugh Thompson, whose parents are wealthy and of the socially elect. She also discovers that the passage from Broadway to Fifth Avenue is not easily travelled. Plans for the Thompson heir do not include marriage with a Broadway dancer, but do include one with a debutante in their own social set. So Rosalie and Hugh are secretly married, and the results involve her in a series of stirring incidents which threaten to end disastrously, but which finally bring happiness to them both.

Supporting Miss Murray are Monte Blue, Ward Crane, Ray Bloomer, Mrs. Jennings and others.

The trouble with a man who knows everything is he only thinks he does.

The trouble with this country is nine pairs of pants out of ten wear out in the seat first.

LADIES DAY AT RED HILL TODAY

Today is Ladies' Day at the Red Hill Country Club and a "bogey" golf tournament was the main feature of the program of events starting at nine o'clock this morning. Wives of the members of the club and their friends to the extent of 125 were in attendance and the day proved a delightful one.

Luncheon was served at The Sycamores at 12 o'clock, following which a bridge tournament in the lobby of the hotel, with Mrs. Welles Ross acting as hostess, was held. Prizes were awarded in the golf tournament as well as in the bridge tournament.

FOSSETT GROVE CHANGES HANDS

Real estate is moving rapidly in Upland, the latest grove to change hands being the five-acre orange orchard at the corner of Eighth street and San Antonio avenue the property of J. F. Fossett, who today closed a deal by which H. Morrow of La Verne becomes the owner.

Mr. Fossett has owned the grove for nineteen years and has a comfortable two story residence on the place, the new owner wishes to take possession of the grove immediately and will move in next week or as soon as Mr. Fossett and his daughter Miss Elizabeth Fossett can find a house in Upland. Everyone will be pleased to hear they have no intention of leaving Upland but will continue to live here.

TENTATIVE PLANS FOR PLAY HOUSE

Tentative plans for an attractive community playhouse to cost between $10,000 and $15,000, together with several proposed sites were given consideration by the board of governors of The Community Players in special session at the Ontario Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

A rough sketch of the plans as presented by J. Byron Campbell, architect for the Campbell Construction Company, calls for an inexpensive but attractive concrete building with excellent stage facilities and an auditorium with a seating capacity of 500.

Several proposed sites were given consideration, and an option has been secured on a piece of ground 75 by 130 feet in the neighborhood of Chaffey High School, which is looked upon with favor by the board, the consensus of opinion being that the playhouse should be kept as near the Chaffey community center as possible.

Named on a committee to present plans for a campaign to finance the proposed playhouse were Leonard J. Frankish, Mrs. Raymond M. Welch, and Joseph A. Downey.

The meeting adjourned until next Tuesday morning, when it is expected that some definite action will be taken toward securing the new playhouse. The Community Players are now obliged to use the Chaffey Auditorium for their dramatic productions and are thus handicapped in that they are permitted to have it only when it is not being used by the school.

Miss Ruth Harrison, producing director of The Players, announced today that tryouts for the cast of "The Thirteenth Chair," the next production of the organization, would probably be held about Feb. 10. It is planned to present the play about March 23.

RED HILL GOLFERS AT RIVERSIDE SUN.

Golf team from the Red Hill Country Club will journey to Riverside Sunday morning all ready for the meet between the team from the Victoria Club, Riverside, and the local team. Those who will play on the Red Hill team are: Ward Walker, John D. Howe, Charles Colladay, A. B. Whitney, C. E. Grier, Dr. Frank M. Taylor, W. H. Craig, Jr., C. E. Smith-Neill, James Black, Norman Lawson, E. E. Sanborn and Ralph Gray.

The Red Hill team now stands foremost among those in this section for the team has defeated Indian Hill, Mountain Meadows and Redlands Country Club. The contest with the Victoria Club Sunday is expected to be a close one, as it is one of the older clubs of Southern California.

SHERIFF'S SALARY RAISE IS APPROVED

County charter amendment increasing the salary of Sheriff W. A. Shay from $2400 to $3600 a year was approved by the legislature at Sacramento Wednesday and goes into effect immediately.

That he sees no occasion for a legal test on his part, was announced yesterday by Vincent Roth, the new county auditor.

"The people of the county authorized the increase in a charter amendment, which they voted at the last general election," said Mr. Roth. "The amendment specifically provides that the new salary shall be effective as of Jan. 8, 1923. The people certainly understood what they wanted."

It was announced some time ago in strike courses, where Sheriff Shay is bitterly opposed, that there would be a legal action over the payment of the salary.

Any Taxpayer Can Protest
Auditor Roth said that any taxpayer had the right to attempt to enjoin him from paying any salary, if he so desired.

Sheriff Shay said yesterday he had heard nothing on the situation, and on Feb. 1 would list his salary at the new figure on the January payroll. Mr. Shay said if there was any effort made to hold up his salary he would bring mandamus proceedings to get the matter squarely and immediately into court.

Several attorneys who have gone over the situation say that the explicit mandate of the voters to make the salary effective Jan. 8, and the fact the amendment was voted at the time of Mr. Shay's election, meets the constitutional provision that salaries cannot be increased during the term for which an officer is elected. The approval of the legislature, although necessary to make the amendment legal, is a mere technicality and not the important feature of the framing of the amendment, these attorneys have ruled.

"SAFETY FIRST" BURGLAR AT WORK

And now comes the "safety first" burglar to carve his niche in the hall of criminal fame.

For a week he has been working consistently, if not profitably, in Rialto and Bloomington, where he has entered nine homes. But, because of his precautionary tactics, he has not been caught.

The "safety first" burglar works with his mind on his safety every minute. In every one of the five homes he entered in Rialto, he adopted the same methods. He entered the home by means of cutting a screen and "jimmying" a window or shoving a door from its hinges with a "jimmy."

Once in the house, the burglar learns every avenue of escape and prepares a way out from every room. As the victims awakened, they found every door open and the screens on the windows propped open. Through which door or screen the "safety first" burglar departed could not be ascertained, he apparently taking to flight as the victims awakened, as they did in nearly every house he entered.

The "safety first" burglar robbed the home of K. C. Kingman, a Rialto City Trustee, on Date Avenue. Crossing the street, he entered the home of Justice of the Peace C. N. Johnson, where he would have been captured but for the opened screens and windows. Judge Johnson awoke and called to the burglar, thinking he was his son. Promptly the "safety first" crook jumped through the open window.

In the homes of Peter Hoover, on Date Avenue, Earl Smith and H. P. Dunlap, the burglar narrowly escaped capture. He knocked a perfume bottle off a table in the Dunlap home and when the Dunlaps awakened, he jumped through a window.

In Bloomington, the burglar worked the following night, entering three homes and the office of the Bloomington Land & Water Company. To date he has secured approximately $50 in loot and three watches.

Constable T. C. McDonald of Rialto patrols Rialto nightly in the hope that the "safety first" burglar will return and let some of his precautionary measures slip.

Dr. Julian, veterinarian, will begin the work of vaccinating all dogs in Upland next Tuesday. He will call upon all parties known to own dogs. You are requested to phone L. T. Cytler to make sure that your dog is vaccinated.

Only a few more months until bathing girls will be back on magazine covers.

TO RECLAIM 40 ACRES ON EAST TWELFTH STREET PLAN OF PURCHASERS

C. C. Hamilton and A. J. Smalley
Buy Forty Acres at East
City Limits

TO CONTROL STORM WATER

Success of Lone Hill Gun Club
and Red Hill Country Club
Main Factors.

First steps in reclaiming that section along East Twelfth Street now known as the "wash" is evidently to be undertaken by Messrs. C. C. Hamilton and A. J. Smalley, for a deal has just been closed by which these men have purchased forty acres, half of which is on either side of Twelfth Street, the east boundary line of their newly purchased property being the Nineteenth Street spur track of the Santa Fe.

With the announcement that the San Antonio Community Hospital is to be erected on Tenth Street, Messrs. Hamilton and Smalley believe that first steps toward the development of that entire section from Campus Avenue east is only a matter of a few months, for Upland needs more territory in which to grow and the section east is the one spot which is bound to be developed because necessity will demand the solving of the problems in that section.

Messrs. Hamilton and Smalley are firm in the opinion that the regulation of the storm waters which sometimes pass through that section, can be accomplished, and will be regulated just as soon as the property-owners in that section launch a program to solve the problem of storm water control.

Another feature which has entered into the development of the territory is the interest in the Lone Hill Gun Club and the Red Hill Country Club. The two clubs are now going concerns in the minds of those familiar with the organizations. The Lone Hill Gun Club is rated as one of the foremost in the state and members of the club believe that it is only a matter of time before a state shoot will be staged there.

The membership of the Red Hill Club is growing each month, and officials believe that before the year 1923 closes the club will have 300 members. Golf players from far and near state that the Red Hill course is one of the finest they have ever played on and the coming year promises still greater things.

CHAFFEY SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA FORMED

There seems to be no end to the inspiration of those connected with the up-building of the Chaffey Community spirit. No sooner is one thing well set on its way than someone else has an idea for furthering the many ways in which Chaffey is proving its worth to the entire West End.

The latest organization is the Chaffey Community Symphony Orchestra, which met in the auditorium last Monday night for the first time, and organized with 33 fine musicians. Fifty are needed for a good symphony, and those interested are asked to attend the next meeting, which will be held on Monday, the 22nd, at seven o'clock, in Chaffey auditorium.

The music rendered last Monday indicated that there is material for the making of one of the finest orchestras this side of Los Angeles.

Principal M. E. Hill is strongly in favor of this Symphony, and announces that there will be a banquet given to all members on Monday, Feb. 5th, in the Chaffey Cafeteria, at six o'clock. Please notice that the banquet will be "given," which, being translated, means it will be entirely free.

BASEBALL GAME ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

A well contested game is promised for next Sunday afternoon when the Huntington Beach Merchants of the Triple A League will play the Ontario ball team on the Campus Avenue grounds, Ontario. There are several Coast League players on this team and baseball fans will enjoy the game. Manager Gautier, as usual, announces that ladies are free.

If better times don't come this year, let's use them for breach of promise.

Judge Bledsoe Scores Klan

JUDGE BENJAMIN F. BLEDSOE, highly esteemed citizen of the state, and former Grand Master of the State for the Masonic fraternity, in an address in San Bernardino a short time ago emphasized to the Masons the fundamental opposition there should be in the heart of every patriotic man to the activities of the Ku Klux Klan. Every citizen should read what Judge Bledsoe said and that part of his address is herewith republished.

"To Masons in particular and to people in general I want to impress that the future of our nation hinges on the survival of our laws," Judge Bledsoe said. "Any time that sect or class of people or body undertakes to take away that power vested in our government they are undermining their own government."

"I don't care what stated object of any organization may be, if it attempts to exercise power which has been given the government as such it is a menace and danger to this United States and should be wiped clean from the country, especially when it is acting under the mask as is the Ku Klux Klan. No organization ever lived which was afraid to show its face and that is what must come to the Ku Klux Klan. It must go from the earth. Masonry walks in the light but the Ku Klux Klan walks in the dark and there can be no connection. Masonry stands for obedience, law and government while the Ku Klux Klan stands for the disrupting of law and order."

"Under the Ku Klux Klan you get mob, under mob comes tumult, under tumult comes violence, revolution and finally chaos. The European countries that are now disrupted started with just such organizing. Very real, true Americans will not countenance such an organization as the Ku Klux Klan or anything that partakes to take away the power of the government.—Redlands Facts."

A Lucky Anniversary

IN FEBRUARY the Boy Scout movement will celebrate its thirteenth anniversary. At present the organization numbers about 400,000 boys with some 125,000 men actively interested in Scouting. It is hoped to raise the membership to 500,000 by the anniversary celebration.

Upland and the West End have a source of pride in their various Boy Scout Troops with their many sided activities. The training the boys get and the fun they enjoy in their trips and expeditions speak strongly for the benefits derived from the organization, and Secretary C. W. Alford and his corps of troop and committee men deserve high credit from the people of this locality for the keen interest they show in the boys and the rare ability they have of entering into the boys' problems.

The place the Boy Scouts occupy in the community is important, and the people of the West End should uphold the splendid work Mr. Alford and his aides are doing by taking an interest in the meetings helping their sons and small boys in their care to enter into all the activities of the Scouts, and encourage in every way the big work that is being done.

Survival Of The Drys

PROHIBITION whisky has increased, by a half, the number rejected when they try to take out insurance. So estimates Insurance Press. The figure seems impossibly high. However, it's true that a large part of the population is committing slow suicide by the bootleg route.

Insurance experts say the situation will right itself to normal within five or ten more years. By that time, they figure, the drinkers will be reposing in black coats that open in the back.

Outlook For A Big Year

AMERICANS this year will try to erect 7830 million dollars' worth of new buildings, or about $70 for every man, woman and child.

This is the estimate by Copper and Brass Research Association. It fears that nearly a fourth of this gigantic building program will have to be delayed until 1924, because of shortage of labor, materials and money.

Good news. When it comes to employment and prosperity, it's impossible for America to bite off more than it can chew. A good year is starting. No news is more fundamental.

Americanism

AMERICA, if it is to be understood, appreciated and properly valued, must be thought of not as a mere nation or country, and certainly not as a mere sentiment, but rather as an aggregate of institutions which have been developed out of centuries of struggle and sacrifice, and without which liberty, as we know it, could never have come into being or have been maintained. No education in Americanism that does not make this clear, and bring it within the comprehension of all our people is of much value. The subject is one which can not, with any profit, be superficially taught, for to teach it superficially is to teach it wrongly.

The history of America began long before America herself began, by no means starting at Plymouth Rock and Jamestown, or with the revolution. This is no paradox, but sober truth. Our history is written in the English common law, which is today—as are the earliest English statutes—part of the law. There is no man—unless charged with treason or felony—held in jail who can not by means of the writ of habeas corpus have a judicial inquiry into the questions as to whether he is rightly restrained. This great writ dates from the passage of the habeas corpus act in the reign of Charles II. It is one of the great bulwarks against tyranny. Men charged with crimes or misdemeanors must be tried by jury, are entitled to counsel whether they can pay for them or not, may compel the summoning of witnesses in their own behalf, can not be forced to incriminate themselves, and must be proved guilty beyond reasonable doubt. All these safeguards are a race inheritance.

So of the two-house legislative system, of the control of the army and navy by the lower house, of the requirement that money bills originate in the lower house, of due process of law and equal protection of the law—it is of these great institutional safeguards that Americanism and American liberty are compacted. And they are all part of that great system which English-speaking peoples have carried with them over the world. A hundred years after the establishment of the habeas corpus principle in England, men in France were arrested on secret process, set in motion by royal whim or personal enmity, and thrown into dungeons without any pretense of a hearing. Men from other lands who set foot on our shores are told that they are free—as they are—but they should be also told why they are free, what it is that makes them free and protects and insures their liberty, and taught the history of the origin and development of American liberty. It is not a thing of yesterday, or of the eighteenth century—it is the product of the labors, struggles and sacrifices of a thousand years, and is rooted in history, as it should be in every American heart. The flag is glorious because it is the visible symbol of all this. When men die for the flag they die for this liberty, as they did during the great world war. If our universities, colleges and schools are not teaching this sort of Americanism they are pitifully—and perhaps fatally—failing in their duty. It is thought to be of great importance—and it is—that children should know how our flag came into being. But it is still more important that they should know how the great institutions without which our liberties could not survive, came into being.—Pomotropic.

What Service Means

IN the Southern Pacific Bulletin, for December, there is an interesting story by a Los Angeles writer who gives a close-up of the exacting passenger when he lays down his cash fare and asks for first class transportation from here to there. What does the passenger expect? Here is a paragraph that gives the railroad's side of it at a sharp angle:

"Every stop was made on time, every want satisfied, the steam was always on, the berths were always made up and ready, the porters never failed to answer a bell and the train crew pulled us through without a skip."

It was expected of the railroad to do this very thing, he tells us, and like the virtue of a good woman, it couldn't be anything else.

And then the writer goes on to say that had the special at any time jumped the track, been appreciably delayed anywhere or fallen down in service, it no doubt would have been "noticed" with emphasis.

It is true. Few passengers, probably, realize what service they demand and receive when they board a first-class train and are carried safely, comfortably and swiftly to their destination. There is much truth in the suggestion that railroad patrons take the same position regarding train service that they do regarding the sun, which comes up every morning, makes its way to the zenith and declines—and sets—all in the day's work. But let one of these trains be late and the whole community flutters as though it had skipped a few heart beats, and if a train fails to pull in, consternation reigns.

Of course, there is a good reason for all this efficiency in railroad service; nothing is too good for the American traveler, who demands the best there is to be had and regards service as a thing well worth paying for.—Bakersfield Californian.

Pitcairn Island, that dot in the Eastern Pacific, which for many years has lived its own life in "splendid isolation," has, according to latest reports, set up a radio plant and now is listening in with all the eagerness of the hardened radio fan. This two square miles of land, which was completely unknown until 1767, has probably enjoyed a greater variety of experiences than any other section of the globe of its size, and withal has lived perforce cut off from the world to an almost unbelievable extent. With no newspapers, unconnected with any other land by cable or telegraph, and entirely dependent upon stray items of information brought at intervals of weeks or even months by chance vessels, it has long bided its time. And now at last the time has come: the curtain of isolation has been dropped and the world is pouring its news and entertainments for its people's delectation.

When you see a man chewing tobacco, he is either single or has been married a long time.

It is easy to figure what you should have said after it is too late to say it.

GALVIN PAYERS IN
UPLAND NEXT WEEK

According to the advance notices the Galvin Players will open a week's engagement next Monday night. The company is headed by Johnny Galvin, whose reputation in the theatrical world as a leading man and laugh-producing light comedian cannot be equalled. Johnny is a true son of the Emerald Isle, a most likeable chap personally, and has a host of friends from coast to coast. Miss

JOHNNY GALVIN

Tootsie, whose inherent sweetness, charming personality and sterling dramatic ability have won for her great praise from press and public, plays the leads. Mr. McAdam has surrounded these two clever people with a strong company of actors and actresses. The company numbers twenty people. Including the vaudeville acts, a repertoire of plays has been selected which is sure to win the approbation of the theater-going people of Upland. The play for Monday will be "The Brat."

The company carries a carload of scenery, properties and electrical effects, so that every play can be given a scenic production complete in every detail. The new entertaining and novel vaudeville will be presented between the acts. As an added feature, Johnny and Mary Galvin will give that clever skit entitled "Peasants," the vaudeville act they presented over the Orpheum circuit for over a year.

There will be five other vaudeville acts in addition to the play. Special numbered reserved seats will be on sale daily for all performances. Monday night the management invites the ladies free to the general admission seats. The doors open at 7:15, curtain at 8:15.

ST. MARK'S PARISH
HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The annual parish dinner election of vestrymen and meeting of the various organizations of St. Mark's Episcopal Church was held last Tuesday evening in Crowell Hall, eighty people being present.

The most important feature of the meeting was the pledging of the congregation to lift the mortgage on the church building by next Easter. Three thousand dollars are still owing, and following an appeal from the rector, Dr. Bert Foster, and a rousing address by Judge O. N. Hilton, the church members vowed to have the mortgage paid by Easter Sunday.

G. A. Hanson, C. S. Traphagen, H. S. Campbell, George H. Clark, Dr. A. J. Colgan, Judge Hilton, William Avery, L. A. Weller, R. C. Batchelder were elected vestrymen for the coming year, and chosen to serve as delegates to the diocesan convention, which will be held in Los Angeles next week. Mr. Hanson, Mr. Avery, Judge Hilton, Mr. Colgan and Ivan Benner.

Reports given by the different departments of the church showed great progress, and everything points to a prosperous year. The financial report was given by Treasurer H. S. Campbell, the Guild by Mrs. C. O. Devorts, the Woman's Auxiliary by Mrs. Annie Youngstrom, the Altar Guild by Mrs. W. G. Morrison, the Junior Auxiliary by Miss Anna Schumacher, and the Sunday School by Mrs. G. A. Hanson.

The Woman's Guild, under the direction of the president, Mrs. Duncan Crooks, provided and served an excellent dinner, the dining room arrangements and decorations being in charge of Mrs. J. H. Tracy.

The greater building activity is a sure way of building greater activity.

Some towns are so lucky. In Nashville, Tenn., an amateur music teacher moved away.

CANYON RIDGE WATER COMPANY

The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Canyon Ridge Water Company will be held at the office of the San Bernardino Mutual Fire Insurance Company, 119 East A Street, Ontario, California, on Tuesday the 6th day of February, 1923, at 10:00 o'clock a.m., for the purpose of electing Directors and for the transaction of such other business as shall properly come before the meeting.

ETIWANDA

Miss Katherine I. Jones entertained the members of the executive board of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor Sunday afternoon when they met to plan the work for the coming year. Miss Jones, who is superintendent of the Intermediates has a number of plans for the young people to follow out during the coming year. They are going to help in varying the evening services of the Church and will make an effort this year to beautify the room in which they meet, some money already being available for this purpose. The newly elected president, Donald Mueller, and the following officers and committee chairmen were present to discuss the plans: Dorothy Brownless, Gertrude Greenlee, Marjorie Frost, Dorothy Smith, Clyde Greenlee, Irwin Koch, Morris Frost, Elmer Mueller and Frank Cour. Before the company adjourned to go down to the church for evening services Miss Jones served salad, sardines, and salted almonds.

Mr. J. D. Orendorff got a front page write up in a San Bernardino daily Saturday for excellent work accomplished in the effort to make Etiwanda "bone dry." He arrested John Collombaro in the act of delivering booze to a San Bernardino customer, and although Collombaro dropped and broke the container Mr. Orendorff succeeded in soaking up enough evidence with his handkerchief to be able to make the arrest. Collombaro was bound over to the Superior Court and in the case set for hearing January 31. It is to be hoped that Mr. Orendorff, who is now deputized as law enforcement officer, will succeed in cleaning up the place and he has the support of practically the entire settlement. A few of the foreign population have been making Etiwanda rival Milwaukee in fame to the embarrassment of all of the better class of citizens.

The Etiwanda Parent Teacher Association members are planning a party to be held February 14, at the school building. As no men ever attend the monthly meetings of the association it is deemed a good time to get them familiar with the looks of the inside of the schoolhouse by a valentine social. The attendance at the meeting last week was unusually large, each child having written two invitations, one for his parents and one for some friend. The youngsters are having a contest each month to see which room can get the most votes for a picture which is being passed about as it is won at the monthly meetings. The Primary room took the picture from the intermediates this time, carrying by only one vote. Mrs. Francis' room are already campaigning for visitors at the February meeting. The pupils of the school are taking subscriptions to the Country Gentleman again, half of the money collected staying in the school to be used for playground equipment.

Mrs. Thomas Donnelly was honored Tuesday evening by a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Donnelly, the occasion being the birthday of the honoree. Roasted wild ducks in inexhaustible abundance with many other good eats to go with them filled the large table. The meal was served cafeteria style and eaten from several small tables that the hostess had provided. There were present: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Donnelly and family, Mrs. Lou Dooley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Donnelly and family, Mr. E. G. Rader, Mr. and Mrs. Werner and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith and family. Messrs W. E. E. Layton, H. A. Allen and Thomas Donnelly, who went to the Salton Sea district hunting last week with Mr. Gentry of San Bernardino, returned Monday evening with a good supply of ducks, having found the shooting excellent.

Miss Dorothy Smith was entertained at the home of Miss Ruth Watenpaugh on Friday and Saturday nights, going with her Scout Troop on a hike Saturday to the Pomona College P. Mrs. Weirick accompanied the troop.

Mr. Alfred H. Utman is driving a new Nash. The congregation at the Etiwanda church Sunday morning enjoyed a duet, "Barcarolle from Tales of Hoffman," played by Berthold and Arthur Dugdale with flute and clarinet. Clyde Greenlee played a clarinet solo for Junior church.

Rev. C. W. Greenlee made a trip to San Bernardino Monday to see about getting films to show here from the First Congregational church of that place. It has been practically a year since a committee was appointed to see about getting moving pictures occasionally for the Etiwanda church but nothing has been done about it. Many rural churches, notably the Yucaipa church under the leadership of Rev. Ferris have used pictures with great success in keeping up an interest among the young people and in making moral lessons more emphatic.

Mr. George Hippard who has been in Etiwanda with his family for the past month started Friday on his return to Seattle, where he is on the staff of the Daily Times. His son Billy who has been home from Berkeley for the holidays went with him as far as Oakland.

Miss Isabel Smith of the State university returned to Berkeley Sunday night. She completes the course in May.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Orendorff went to Covina Sunday, where they were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Pyle.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Roe and family dined in Upland Sunday at the home of Mrs. F. E. Rader. The Rader and Roe families went to Pomona in the afternoon for religious services and had tea with Mrs. Roe's mother before returning home in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Mode Frasure of Upland spent Sunday and dined with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McNurlin and grandsons.

Miss Mercedes Frost attending a meeting Friday evening of her Scout patrol at the home of Mrs. Weirick and remained at the Weirick home overnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Donnelly and family picniced Friday at Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles with friends including Miss Helen Burbank.

Mrs. J. B. McNurlin gave a luncheon Thursday for Miss Isabel Smith, with Mrs. J. D. Orendorff and Mrs. Smith and the younger children as guests. In the afternoon the party motored to San Bernardino where with a number of other Etiwanda people they saw Mary Pickford portray "Tess of the Storm Country."

Miss Irene Scott is out of high school this week with an extra bad cold. She has been running a temperature and is under the care of the family physician.

Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Suhr dined in Redlands Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lewis, the guest of honor being Mr. W. Lewis who has just come from Wales.

Miss Nell McGinty of San Bernardino was a week-end visitor in Etiwanda.

Mr. John Orchard has begun an addition 40 feet square to the front of his home on the Foothill boulevard.

Taxes have been cut in Ohio. This is contrary to the definition of taxes, which is "Things that go up."

HOUSE GUEST HONORED

In honor of her house guest, Miss Iva Merrin, of Canada, who will spend some months in Upland, Miss Ruth Cline entertained on Wednesday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Churchill Cline, on Washington Boulevard. Cards and dancing were the amusements of the evening. Those bidden to meet Miss Merrin were Mrs. Frank Nichols, Mrs. Pearl Wilson, Mrs. Arthur Littlejohn, Mrs. G. W. Cassell, Mrs. Hubert L. Manker, Miss Gertrude Eymann, Miss Elizabeth Wedel, Miss Mildred Bost, Miss Mildred Myers, Miss Marjorie Long, Miss Freda Wedel.

FIVE HUNDRED CLUB MEETS AT JACOBS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Jacobs were hosts last Tuesday night at their attractive home on North Euclid Avenue to members of the H. G. L. 500 Club, who spent a jolly evening at the game.

Tables were placed for six couples, and honors were awarded H. G. Humble for high score at the close of the game, while Harry Cushing won the consolation prize.

A delicious supper was served at midnight to the following members: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Head, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Humble, Mrs. Charles Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cushing, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Couch, and Harry Cushing.

EAST END CLUB GUESTS OF MR. AND MRS. G. L. WINTER

Twenty members of the East End Improvement Club were guests last night of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Winter at their home on East Ninth Street, when a social evening was spent, the hospitality of the hosts making a delightful background for the furthering of acquaintances begun at previous meetings.

A short business session was held and a discussion continued on the Ninth Street wash, which is one of the big problems confronting the property owners in that district. A committee had been appointed to inspect the wash and consider the possibility of having it turned into its original channel, the Cucamonga wash, but as L. R. Bradley, chairman, was not present, the report was left until a future meeting. Others on this committee are Lewis T. Cutler, Hugh McKinney and G. L. Winter. Another matter considered was the extension of street lights out to Cucamonga Avenue. There are a number of houses beyond where the present lighting system goes, and residents have to travel some distance in absolute darkness if living beyond this point.

The rest of the evening passed in informal intercourse, and cakes and coffee were served by the hostess, completing a most enjoyable hour.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Glover, on East Tenth Street.

LOCAL BUSINESS WOMEN GUESTS OF POMONA CLUB

The president, Mrs. G. L. Winter, and four other members of the Upland Business Woman's Club, Mrs. H. Anderson, Mrs. G. Thudum, Mrs. Ro Creighton, and Miss Grace Adsit, motored to Pomona last Tuesday to attend a meeting of the Business Woman's Club of that city, held at the Ebell Club House, at which Miss Jane Humphries, chairman of state membership; Miss Floy Galpin, president of the Los Angeles County Business and Professional Woman's Club, and Miss Kellogg, a practicing lawyer of Los Angeles, were scheduled to speak.

The addresses were along general lines of woman's work in business, and all three speakers gave a lot of practical advice, their talks being listened to with great interest.

After the program an informal social hour was passed, Miss Ethel Avis, president of the Pomona Business Woman's Club, and the other members, acting as hostesses.

Although the Pomona Club is only recently organized, it has a membership of 74, and is growing steadily every month.

MEMBERS OF 18TH STREET SCHOOL HOLD FOOD SALE

The Parent-Teachers' Association of the 18th Street School have several things featured for next Tuesday afternoon, when the regular meeting will be held at three o'clock in the school building.

The president, Mrs. William R. Mason, announces that there will be a cooked food sale, in charge of the mothers of the third and fourth grade children, the proceeds are to go towards the hot luncheon fund which has been decided on for the benefit of the pupils.

Another event will be the Grab Bag, always a delightful mystery. Those behind the scenes are asked not to forget to bring their contributions on Tuesday, and it is hoped that everyone will be able to attend, as the meeting promises to be of more than ordinary interest.

MUSICAL TREAT FOR WOMAN'S CLUB MEMBERS

Professor S. Earle Blakeslee of the Chaffey Musical Department will give a talk next Wednesday afternoon before the members of the Upland Woman's Club on American Folk Music, which he will illustrate with piano selections. Mr. Blakeslee has discovered several ancient songs among the mountain people of the Southern States, which he will reproduce on Wednesday. This promises to be one of the most interesting programs ever given by the Woman's Club, and it is hoped that a large attendance will greet Mr. Blakeslee.

In keeping with the musical atmosphere, roll call will consist of a line from "Old Favorites" from each member.

MRS. C. V. BARR ATTENDS STATE COUNCIL D. A. R.

Mrs. Charles V. Barr, regent of the San Antonio Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, attended the State Council held on Tuesday at the Ambassador Hotel, Los Angeles, other delegates from the chapter being Mrs. Jacob Jesson, Mrs. May Hart Smith and Mrs. Harry de Berard.

The State Council meeting opened at one-thirty, and at three o'clock a program was given, including a most interesting talk by Professor Hunt of the University of Southern California on "The History of California."

The state meeting will be held in Oakland March 8th and 9th, and Mrs. Barr will also attend that as a delegate from the San Antonio Chapter.

ANNANDALE COUNTRY CLUB SCENE OF ROAMERS' DANCE

Social circles are once more on the qui vive over the expected announcement of another of those unique and delightful parties of the Roamers, which has a large membership in Upland's exclusive society. While the guest cards have not yet been sent out and no official announcement has as yet been made, The News, however, has the information from an inside source that enables it to give out the exclusive information that the forthcoming party will be at the Annandale Country Club, Pasadena, on Saturday night, February 10th, and that some twenty guest couples are to be invited from Upland.

This event is scheduled to be one of the prettiest parties yet given by the Roamers, and as the facilities at Annandale are ample, it is understood that a large number of guest cards will be sent out this coming week to residents of the East End, and Los Angeles, Pasadena, and Beverly Hills.

It had been expected to hold the party at Rene's in Pasadena, but it was discovered that the dance floor would be too limited for the size of the party intended, so arrangements were made for the celebrated Rene to take charge of the catering at the country club for this event, while the well-known Rene orchestra will be there to discourse the delightful music that this noted band of musicians is famous for.

There was keen competition for this event. The Roamers are so justly celebrated for their beautiful parties that it is considered quite a mark of approbation to be the place selected for one of their dances. Invitations for the holding of this next function from the Beverly Hills Hotel, The Ambassador, The Mission Inn, The Maryland, and the Annandale Country Club were carefully considered, and the latter was felt to present at this time the features of paramount interest and novelty for both members and guests.

RECEPTION TO GREET NEW MEMBERS

Welcoming many new members, the Ladies' Aid and officers of the Presbyterian Church gave an informal reception on Wednesday evening in the church parlors, when new and old members made each other's acquaintance and enjoyed a delightful musical program.

Mrs. J. L. Grahame and Miss Ruth Repine sang several charming songs, their accompaniments being played by Miss Bertha Palmer and Mrs. Earl Johnson, the latter also being the pianist in the orchestra, which gave many delightful numbers during the evening.

In celebration of the twenty-first anniversary as president of the Ladies' Aid, and of the fifteenth anniversary of the Frances Paul Girls' organization, members of both associations presented Mrs. James L. Paul (Frances Paul), with a basket of sweet peas. Mrs. Paul was unable to be present at the reception on Wednesday, but a committee composed of Mrs. R. C. Stone, Mrs. R. F. Lemon, Mrs. Grahame and Mrs. Johnson motored up during the evening to Mrs. Paul's residence and presented her with the charming bouquet, Mrs. Stone being spokesman and expressing the sentiments of the entire membership in her friendly little speech.

One hundred people were present at the welcoming reception and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Refreshments were served before the guests departed for their homes.

MRS. F. H. MANKER HOSTESS AT BRIDGE

Bridge was the entertainment offered by Mrs. Fletcher H. Manker to a few of her friends last Tuesday. Bouquets of violets and pink sweet peas were used in decoration. Six tables were played, Mrs. William B. Duncan carrying off first honors and Mrs. Reid B. Bordwell second, the prizes being lustreware cups and saucers. The consolation, a small blue bowl, was awarded to Mrs. Elwin A. Magill. Other invited guests were: Mrs. George Cable, Mrs. Raymond C. Norton, Mrs. John Rarick, Mrs. N. G. Pehl, Mrs. Grace Childs, Pauline, Mrs. Ernest C. Mohl, Mrs. Jedd F. Sawyer, Mrs. Charles M. Sikes, Mrs. J. Lynward Grahame, Mrs. Verner H. Wilson, Mrs. Perry O. Long, Mrs. Harry C. Kennedy, Mrs. P. COUNCIL FIRE HELD BY INDIAN MAIDENS

Members of the Wah Wah Tay See Camp Fire met last Monday afternoon at the tennis courts on the property of Mrs. James L. Paul, situated near the eucalyptus grove east of her ranch on 22nd Street, where a Council Fire was held, one member, Margaret Cushman, becoming a fire-maker.

Miss Harwood, who is the guardian of the Camp Fire, presided over the ceremony. An outdoor supper was enjoyed, and the girls heard a very interesting talk on the Law of the Camp Fire by Mrs. H. W. Hawkins, who was formerly a Camp Fire guardian.

Fourteen members of the Wah Wah Tay See were present, and the evening was one of the jolliest of the many good times these girls have. The next meeting will be towards the end of the month.

MRS. DUVALL HOSTESS TO THIMBLE CLUB

A delightful afternoon was spent last Tuesday by members of the Thimble Club at the home of Mrs. Clyde Duvall, 732 Euclid Avenue, when she entertained her club sisters.

The living rooms were very attractive and cozy and the time passed quickly in an informal manner, most of the members being occupied with needlework of various sorts. Refreshments were served at the close of a very pleasant time.

Members present were Mrs. H. A. Allen, Mrs. Earl Williams, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. W. H. Kegley, Mrs. Julia Thatcher, Mrs. Alfred Davenport, Mrs. Miln, Miss Katherine Hamilton, Miss Grace Smyth, Miss Mabel Gray, Miss Katherine Salter, Miss Alice Allen, Miss Ethel Leake.

In striking contrast to the position of importance which the King's speech at the opening of the British Parliament occupies today is the very slight notice which was paid to it on such occasions as a hundred years or so ago. In this connection an anecdote is told of an incident which is said to have occurred during one such speech delivered by George IV. when he was Regent. At that time the reading of the speech was largely a formality and it is related that the Regent laid a wager with Richard Sheridan that so little attention would be paid to it that he could interpolate any nonsense he liked without attracting surprise. The wager was accepted, so the story goes, whereat the speaker paused in the course of his address, said distinctly, "Baa, baa, black sheep," and then went on. No one took any notice of the strange words, and chagrined at the loss of his wager, Sheridan asked the Premier, George Canning, if he had noticed anything strange. "O, yes," said Canning, "I heard him say, 'Baa, baa, black sheep,' but as he was looking straight at you at the time, I took it for a personal allusion."

Organize P. T. A.

Plans for the establishment of a cafeteria at Central School for the use of pupils and teachers will be the first work to be undertaken by the Central Parent-Teachers' Association, which was organized at an enthusiastic meeting in the school auditorium yesterday afternoon, attended by 125 parents and patrons of the institution.

Mrs. K. W. Fuller was elected president for the ensuing year and other officers chosen were Miss Gladys Hohl, vice-president; Mrs. J. Kessler, secretary, and Mrs. Walter Smith, treasurer.

The meeting was called to order by R. B. Huxtable, Central principal, who turned the meeting over to Mrs. Fuller following her election.

C. W. Randall, city superintendent of schools, addressed the meeting on the importance of having a cafeteria at the school, and plans for the improvement will be pushed.

The eighth grade pupils entertained the gathering with the presentation of a playlet, "The District School."

Permits Mount

Permits issued yesterday by City Building Inspector O. S. Roen represent an expenditure of $4700, and boost the total for the year to date to $57,300.

Harold H. Taylor is to build a 3-room dwelling at 2104 West G Street at a cost of $1800; J. C. Fowler is to erect a 5-room dwelling at Nocta Street and Campus Avenue at a cost of $2500, and E. J. Schmidt is to make alterations to a dwelling at 559 East H Street, at a cost of $400.

Frightens Intruder

Screams of Mrs. Irene Christian when she chanced upon a man in the bathroom of her apartment at the home of R. D. Newton, 404 West D Street, early yesterday, are believed to have saved the house from burglary, the intruder being frightened away.

COY HAS REPORT ON QUARANTINE

Amazing number of tourists arriving daily in Southern California as well as the value of the plant quarantine stations operated in the south by the State Department of Agriculture, one which is at Daggett, San Bernardino County, are shown in the brief summary of the December reports by the department and sent to J. P. Coy, horticultural commissioner in this county and under whose direction the Daggett quarantine station is operated.

The report shows that 3234 vehicles were inspected as they crossed the line into California from the east. The majority of these people expect to remain here, according to investigations by the inspectors.

From the number inspected one lot of insects was taken, two lots of horticultural material refused admittance, and 236 lots of contraband cotton, cotton seeds, alfalfa hay, citrus fruits and other forms of contraband destroyed. Had this been allowed entrance it may have resulted in great loss to crops here.

The inspection work is carried on by the Department of Agriculture with the co-operation of the county in which the station is located.

Mr. Coy said today the Daggett station will remain in operation indefinitely. Persons coming into the state are meeting the inspectors without objection and in most cases favor the inspection. They expect the inspection as word has been sent east by friends who preceded them that an inspection is carried out here.

A FINANCIAL COMMANDMENT.

for every day in the week

"National Thrift Week" brings out the following sensible ideas—"commandments" that any wise man can make to himself and faithfully keep, if he will, to his own lasting benefit.

- 1.—HAVE A BANK ACCOUNT—to keep your money in a safe place and help you save.
- 2.—MAKE A BUDGET—to ascertain how you should dispose of your income.
- 3.—CARRY LIFE INSURANCE—to protect your loved ones in case of your death.
- 4.—OWN YOUR OWN HOME—to secure the greatest satisfaction in your home life.
- 5.—SHARE WITH OTHERS—to fulfill your religious duty of stewardship.
- 6.—PAY YOUR BILLS PROMPTLY—to meet the moral obligation you have to your creditors.
- 7.—MAKE A WILL—to help insure your resources going quickly to those you desire.

—These Banks endorse all these and are ready to co-operate with you in making them actual accomplishments. Let us help you "Make Your Money Mean More."

If You Held a Tire Against an Emery Wheel

ONE of many things would happen to it—depending entirely on the tire. If the tread is too soft it will crumble, just like any eraser when it is rubbed over rough paper. It would soon wear down. But if the tread is too hard or brittle it will easily grind and tear away. The emery wheel will eat through at a rapid rate. The famous Dayton black tread—tough and tenacious yet highly resilient, buoyant and alive—will stand the emery wheel punishment in a manner that will astonish you.

Do you realize that your tires are being subjected to "emery wheel" treatment every day—every mile you drive them—and do you wonder that we are careful in investigating the tread of a tire before we offer it—and guarantee it to you?

The tread of a Dayton Tire is a masterpiece. It's black—brilliant black. And after you've driven it a few hundred or a few thousand miles it has the appearance of polished ebony—smooth—clean, without chips or marks or holes. It stands the wear and tear of rough roads, concrete pikes and hot macadam with hardly a sign of wear. That's the kind of a tire you want. It's the tire that will prove most economical. It's the tire we unhesitatingly recommend. Let us tell you more about Dayton Tires. There's a lot more well worth telling.

Dayton Tubes compare in quality with Dayton Tires. —this means they're some Tubes. Ask us to let you feel one.

BUST OF COLOMBIAN PATRIOT UNVEILED

Senor Enrique De Olaya and Mrs. Fred Page Tibbits, granddaughter of General Santander, who took part in the unveiling ceremonies of the Colombian hero at the Pan-American Union, Washington, D. C. The bust is that of General Santander, called the greatest patriot of the Republic of Colombia, and was presented by that nation to the Pan-American Union. Senor De Olaya made the address of presentation and many notables took part in the ceremonies.

WILLIAM B. LEEDS AND HIS BRIDE, PRINCESS XENIA, ARRIVE

William B. Leeds, young son of the late "Tin Plate King" of Cleveland, Ohio, and of the present Princess Anastasia of Greece, with his bride, the Princess Xenia, arriving at New York on the Cunarder Berengaria. They will join Mr. Leeds' stepfather and mother, the Prince Christopher and Princess Anastasia, and the four are expected to remain in New York until the arrival here of Prince Andrew, recently sentenced to banishment from Greece for life as the result of his actions during the Greek-Turk War. Princess Xenia was a daughter of Grand Duchess Maria, of Russia, and a niece of King Constantine.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Electric Brooders are most satisfactory. Upland Feed Store has them in sizes from 100 to 500 capacity. 71-1-1

Why not try Sanitones on that old wooden drainboard? Phone 285-J and our mechanic will call. 70-1-10

Upland is building up in all directions, not only on Euclid Avenue and the business section, but east and north as well. The Pleasant View tract north of Eleventh Street is receiving many new residents, several of whom are building houses. A few have moved to other towns, but have retained their property here hoping to come back at some future time, and the people flocking in are all buying lots and planning to build. The Pleasant View Community Club has done a great deal towards furthering the interests of that section of Upland, and while enjoying social times there is also a strong feeling of fellowship among the members, and everyone boosts for the district.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Jacobs and baby boy are the guests for a few days of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Jacobs, at their home "Dunmavin," North Euclid Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs, Jr., live at Anaheim and motored up yesterday.

Elmer Krehbell, 263 Eighth Avenue, left yesterday for Oakland, where he has accepted a position as manual training teacher in the Oakland High School. Mr. Krehbell made the trip north by boat, leaving from San Pedro on Wednesday evening.

Although the rain storm foretold by the weather man has not yet arrived, it is very likely we will have it before many hours. Clouds have been gathering on Old Baldy all day, and conditions are threatening for a good old storm.

At the last meeting of the Upland Library Board of Trustees it was decided to open the library at one o'clock instead of the present hour of two, in order to accommodate the patrons coming in from the country and others who wish to get their books before beginning their afternoon affairs. The change in hours will commence the first of February.

Mrs. Workman, of Rialto, mother of Mrs. W. F. Kitchel, has returned from a six-months' visit to friends in Maine, and is spending a few days with her daughter before going on to Rialto. Mrs. Kitchel also has as her house guest her cousin, Mrs. A. E. Baker, of Malden, Mass., who accompanied Mrs. Workman back to California, and who will visit here for some weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Kitchel motored to San Bernardino on Wednesday to meet the travellers.

Meetings at the Nazarene Church of the Flying Squadron are being very well attended, and those who have not been able to go so far should take advantage of the opportunity tomorrow, as it is the last day. The afternoon meeting will be held at 3:30, and the evening one at 7:30, when the Honorable Oliver W. Stewart, President of the Flying Squadron Foundation, will speak.

Members of the Priscilla Circle will meet next Thursday at the home of Mrs. R. H. Henderson, 765 Euclid Avenue, for their regular all-day business and social gathering. The time will be spent in sewing for charitable purposes.

G. Lohrlin of Riverside was in Upland yesterday in connection with his business of supplying materials to bee men, of whom there are many in this vicinity.

Don't forget the food sale to be held tomorrow at one-thirty, in Johnson & Brown's grocery store, 281 Second Avenue, when the East Side Circle of the Methodist Church will have many delicacies of home-cooked food for sale. Meat loaves, salads and pies will be ready to take home to eat, but come early as experience proves they will soon be sold out.

Glenn Wright and Charles V. Benson have both purchased building lots on Washington Boulevard, between 8th and 9th Avenues, and plan to build residences within the near future.

Charles V. Barr, who was taken suddenly ill last night, is reported today to be resting comfortably. He passed a restless night, and is feeling weak and unable to leave his bed, but indications are that he will recover after a few days' rest.

Mrs. E. P. Chaffee, who has been in Los Angeles for the past three weeks in attendance on her sister, who has been seriously ill, is expected home on Monday.

F. B. Chaffee, real estate dealer and insurance man of note, is with us again, having opened up the offices formerly occupied by the late Senator Lawrence, at 113 Second Avenue. Mr. Chaffee does not let the grass grow under his feet, and while in the process of "opening up," dusting and so forth, found time to make a few deals in real estate, some here and one in Missouri. Mr. Chaffee has sold for Charles Rudy a 100-acre improved farm in Missouri, and also sold to Mr. Rudy 40 acres of citrus property owned by Mr. Donner of Alta Loma. Another deal made yesterday was that of 40 acres of vacant land on East Twelfth Street, the property of Mr. Mile of Los Angeles, who has sold it to Anson J. Smalley of Ontario. It is reported Mr. Smalley will probably plant the acreage to grapes.

WHAT DOES A BOX OF ORANGES COST?

In the last issue of the Produce News there is an interesting article answering the questions: What does it actually cost to produce a box of oranges in California and to lay it down in any of the leading markets? What is the cost of a box of California lemons?

The California Citrus League, under which title the various organizations of the state, including the Exchange, the M. O. D., and the leading independent organizations handle their common problems, in a report dated December 14, 1922, gives this data. This is the first cost report issued in several years. Coming from the source it does, it may well be considered official.

By comparing this "cost" price with the actual selling price of any special car at any time, the profit or loss to the grower will be apparent at a glance. Based on this cost showing, many hundreds of cars shipped since September have brought less than cost, either in the auctions or at private sale in the smaller markets.

Production Cost—Lemons
Cultural cost per acre, $265.10; average production, 200.9 boxes per acre, equals $1,320. Handling cost, including picking, $0.364; hauling, $0.057; packing, $0.1030; total, $1,451. Delivered cost per box (not including selling expense), $4.085.

Production Cost—Oranges
Cultural cost per acre, $266.31; average production, 161.7 boxes per acre equals $1,647. Handling cost, including picking, $0.130; hauling, $0.046; packing, $0.712; total, $0.888. Freight and refrigeration, $1.493. Delivered cost per box (not including selling expense), $4.028.

These figures do not show "interest on investment"—which any business must earn in order to keep going. It does not show any allowance for "risk from frost damage," heat damage and other occasional causes of losses.

When, therefore, an annual report shows that the members of a certain local association received an "average" for the season of $4 for oranges, such a "showing" actually represents a loss of 28 cents box to the growers—in addition to the cost of operating the association, also the selling cost, advertising cost and other items incurred in the operation of the growers' organization. In the case of the independent shipping organization, its commission or selling charge should be added in order to show the actual total loss or gain to the grower.

When oranges are selling in the auctions or in the open market for $4 box or less delivered, it is actually less than the cost; lemons at $4.10 the same.

When cash buyers are paying two cents pound on the tree for oranges, all grades and sizes, this represents, at the closest margin of 80 pounds fruit to the box, just the cultural cost of the fruit.

When cash buyers are paying two sellers are forced to allow discounts, or where small sizes rule and similar discounts must be given, the lower percentage of preferred fruit falls to bring the seller out whole. Where there is a heavier proportion of choice and standard than normal here again is an added cost to fancy.

OTHELLO TO BE PRODUCED IN ELIZABETHAN STYLE

Rehearsals are progressing on Shakespeare's Othello, which is to be given Friday and Saturday, January 26 and 27, as the fourth number on the Pomona College Music and Drama Course.

Othello is one of Shakespeare's greatest plays. It is a grisly tragedy, a tale of the murder of the innocent and beautiful Desdemona, all managed by the clever spirit of evil Iago. Before the eyes of the audience unfolds this tale of horror.

Being thus a play of wit, it is capable of production in true Elizabethan style. Prof. Shepard is producing the play after this manner in the rightly-famed Bridges Hall. Bridges Hall has a superb atmosphere for these Shakespeare plays. The great blue velvet curtains form the background for the action. Only necessary properties are used, making the play a literary production rather than, in any way, scenic. This form of production, which was the kind Shakespeare himself used when he acted, is especially fitted for Shakespeare's plays, because it does lay the emphasis upon the literary side.

Bridges Hall is so admirably suited to this simple form of production that it makes a most effective setting for them. We are indeed assured of a beautiful, convincing and interesting performance of Othello there.

It's a different world entirely as soon as the overcoat lining begins to tear apart.

St. Mark's Parish Meeting

On Tuesday evening the annual parish meeting of St. Mark's congregation was held, through the courtesy of the Methodist Church, in Crowell Hall. Dinner was served by the ladies of the parish under the direction of Mrs. Duncan Crooks, president of the Guild, over 70 persons sitting down together.

After dinner the meeting was opened by the rector with a short service, and reports were read by all the societies of the parish and each showed a very successful year with balances to credit in their treasuries. Judge Hilton, on behalf of the outgoing vestry, urged the clearing off of the mortgage at Easter, so that the church building may be consecrated on St. Mark's Day, April 25. Judge Hilton stated that since the rector had urged this matter the members had shown a most loyal and commendable interest in it, and while it would be a real sacrifice for some to give all they desired to give, he felt sure none would hold back nor refuse to give even to the extent of their ability and beyond it rather than that the rector should be disappointed in his hopes.

The united and generous spirit of the congregation was emphasized and the rector thanked the members for their loyalty and support of the work.

Several resolutions were offered and carried. To the absent sick members, especially Messrs. Hanson, E. B. Clark and F. A. Ross; to the ladies for the wonderful supper; the choir, and to Dr. and Mrs. Foster for their constant hospitality.

The elections resulted as follows: For the Vestry—Messrs. Hanson, Traphagen, Weller, Batchelder, Avery, G. H. Clark, Campbell, Dr. Colgan, and Judge Hilton.

Representatives to Convention—Judge Hilton, Dr. Colgan, G. A. Hanson, W. Avery, Ivan Benner. Alternates—Weller, Crooks, Batchelder, Elliott and Traphagen.

Former Cucamongan Wedded
News of much interest locally is the announcement of the marriage of a former well-known Cucamonga youth, Paul Chafe, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Chafe, now of Los Angeles, and a brother of Mrs. A. C. Beattie of Cucamonga, which took place at the home of the bride, Miss Margarita Perraud, charming daughter of a well-known geologist, M. Perraud, at San Diego, on Dec. 19th. The wedding was quite a social event in the Southern city, the pretty bride being popular in a large circle of friends, and a private secretary to a rear-admiral in the United States Navy during and since the war. The young couple are making their future home in Escondido.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Horst are complimenting the Aloha Club this evening, entertaining with a six o'clock dinner at their home on Ramona avenue, to be followed by the five-hundred tournament.

J. H. Williams has commenced construction of an attractive new bungalow home, being located amid the young orange groves set out a few years ago on his extensive Red Hill property. The dwelling will front on Carnelian avenue, with a wonderful view of the mountains and meadows to the north and east, the grassy slopes of Red Hill on the west and the wooded wilderness along the stream to the south.

Miss Theresa Stipe left on Sunday with her sister, Miss Bessie Stipe, for an extended visit at the latter's home in Redondo Beach. Miss Stipe is a teacher in the Redondo High School.

The little home now building on Belmont avenue, for Mrs. Sarah Shafstall to replace the one that was burned, is now nearing completion and ready for the inside finish. It will be ready for occupancy within a short time.

The Cucamonga Woman's Club will be entertained at the pretty new home of Mrs. H. C. Wentworth on State Highway, Thursday afternoon of next week. Mrs. Wentworth will have assisting her as hostesses, Mrs. A. G. Phelps and Mrs. Arthur Relph.

Miss Mary Albert was home from Los Angeles for the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Albert, of Alta Loma.

Miss Constance Thorpe has returned to Berkeley to resume her studies in Kindergarten work at the University of California.

Mrs. Theodore Krysto is today carrying her arm in a sling as the result of an accidental fall on the slippery sidewalks while in the Angel City the early part of the week. In endeavoring to break the force of the fall, she severely sprained her right arm.

Mrs. Maria Moeller returned Wednesday afternoon after a pleasant outing in Los Angeles since Sunday.

Mrs. Hugh Sanders and baby son, of Los Angeles, are spending some time at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wheaton, of Hellman avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Haskell, of San Francisco, who are wintering in Southern California, were guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Albert, Sr.

Little Miss Barbara Thorpe, of San Francisco, is visiting at the home of her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Thorpe, of Alta Loma, pending the arrival of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thorpe, Jr., and her baby brother, who are coming South to make their future home in Pasadena. Mrs. Thorpe and two children will visit her relatives here and in Upland until about March 1st, or until their household goods arrive and they are ready to settle in their new home.

Word received by their friends here, advises that a fine 9-lb. baby girl has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Meaney in Alhambra, and all reported doing nicely. Mr. and Mrs. Meaney will be well remembered here when they resided on the South Side two years ago.

S. M. Roberts, who was severely injured when struck down by a truck last Monday on Archibald avenue, is reported doing favorably under the care of a competent nurse and recovering gradually from the shock of the accident and painful injuries received. Mr. Roberts is nearly seventy years old.

Theodore Krysto has charge of the construction of a fine new home which his mother, Mrs. Alessandra Krysto, is building near the present homesite amid the orange and lemon trees of their grove on North Archibald avenue. The house is to be of Spanish design and architecture.

Miss Mildred Thorpe left last Saturday for Los Angeles, where she entered the "Casterlar Creche" as instructor in the care and training of young children, a career for which Miss Thorpe is particularly adapted.

When about to leave on the last day of the quail hunting season this week, for the wilds of Victorville and the anticipation of a delightful visit with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Trickey at Helen Station, Mr.

AMERICAN PRINCESS AND HUSBAND ARRIVE
Among the eminent passengers arriving in New York on the S. S. Olympic, were Prince Christopher of Greece, and his wife, Princess Anastasia, the former Mrs. William B. Leeds, of Cleveland, Ohio. All the millions of American dollars could not place the American princess on the throne of Greece, so together with her husband, she has come to America, where revolutions, counter-revolutions, shooting cabinet members, etc., etc., are not daily affairs.

LOVE THIEF TO BE BANNED BY JURIST'S LAW

Death knell of the he-vamp and the siren sounded today, and between peals were heard assurances of full protection to every married man and woman.

Split—but not irrevocably—upon the question of a law regulating love piracy, to be introduced in Sacramento at this session of the State Legislature, San Bernardino County jurists today declared that "it met the problem of the hour."

"If a man steals money, it is a crime. If he steals property of any kind he is charged with a felony. There is no reason why a man who steals the affections of another man's wife, or a wife who alienates the love of another woman's husband should not pay in the same way."

That was the statement of Superior Judge J. W. Curtis upon and Mrs. W. E. Morse received word that a party of six old Wyoming friends would arrive to spend the day with them at their beautiful orange-grove home on Hellman avenue, so the desert trip had to be postponed until a later and more convenient time.

Petition For Curbing Archibald Avenue

A petition for the widening, guttering and curbing of Archibald avenue, from State Highway to Santa Fe tracks, is being circulated among the owners of abutting property by Harry Roberts, himself an owner of an extensive acreage at corner of Archibald and Feron street. The petition is meeting with instant approval of all interested parties and will be submitted to the consideration of the County Supervisors. If favorable action be taken, it is said that a similar petition will be submitted to property owners from the Santa Fe track south to Colton avenue.

The guttering and curbing of Archibald is a badly needed improvement and one that has been talked about for some years. Such an important thoroughfare as Archibald avenue, has grown to be, should present a neat appearance, as well as safe and sane, which in its present condition it certainly does not, with its unsightly and dangerous gutters bordering the roadway, each year growing deeper and deeper and more dangerous to traffic.

being presented with the legal nut and asked to crack it. He termed the law "real progressivism."

Love Can't Be Stolen

Judge Benjamin F. Warner saw it in another light. "You can't tell me," declared that magistrate, "that love can be stolen. There has to be a conspiracy, and one party is as much to blame as the other. Of course," he thought for a moment speculatively. "Of course, it would be necessary for me to see the final draft of the law before passing upon its effectiveness."

The question started two days ago when local attorneys and magistrates were startled by the announcement received here that under a bill drawn up by Superior Judge George E. Samuels, of Oakland, and sent to Sacramento for introduction in the legislature, both the siren and the male home wrecker would be placed in the same legal category as the property thief.

The bill is designed, according to a letter received here and written to the legislators of the state, to protect husbands and wives against "many young men and women who think it smart to run around with a married man or woman."

More Lovers Than Bootleggers
The bill, if passed, would make "love thefts" a felony, rated the same as grand larceny, and punishable by imprisonment for five years in the penitentiary.

The Court House is agog over the moot question, and the district attorney's office has been unable to recover from the shock imposed by imminent prospects of having to enforce such a law.

"It would be worse than catching the bootlegger; our jails would be full and our calendars crowded something awful," declared one deputy.

MA'S METHOD

Ma was putting the poor relations near the head of the table, and pa wondered why.

"I love 'em and respect 'em, and all that," ma said, "but you know they don't wear expensive clothes."

"Well?"

"And the way you carve, pa, nobody knows which way the stuffing is going to squirt."

HERE'S THE WAY OPTIMISTS
ATTEMPT TO ACT

If you, too, would be an optimist, read carefully this promise of the optimists—who recently solemnly undertook to follow this creed:

Promise Yourself

To be strong and that nothing can disturb your peace of mind. To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.

To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.

To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.

To think only of the best, to work only for the best and expect only the best.

To be just and enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.

To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.

To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.

HISTORY'S
MYSTERIES

THE RIDDLE OF THE CYCLOPS

ECLIPSING the other mysteries of the World War and overshadowing all other unsolved riddles of the sea—the possible exception of the matter of the Marie Celeste—the unexplained loss of one of the United States colliers, Cyclops, stands pre-eminent, apparently one of the few cases on record where the sea literally opened and swallowed a huge boat, leaving not the slightest trace of the vessel or her crew.

The brief and formal announcement of the Navy department by Secretary Daniels issued at the time that the Cyclops was officially added to the list of missing ships, gives the principal details in the case, few and inadequate as they are: "It was on March 4, 1918," read this announcement, "that the collier Cyclops, 19,000 tons displacement, put into the British West Indies for coal. She was due in her home port on March 13. Since her departure from that port there has not been a trace of the vessel, and long-continued and vigilant search of the entire region proved utterly futile, not a vestige of the wreckage having been discovered.

"No reasonable explanation of her strange disappearance can be given. It is known that one of her two engines was damaged, and that she was proceeding at reduced speed, but if the engine had become disabled it would not have had any effect upon her ability to communicate by radio. Many theories have been advanced, but none that seems to account satisfactorily for the ship's complete disappearance. After months of search and waiting, the Cyclops has been finally given up as lost and her name stricken from the registry."

But these are only the barest facts in the case, and make no mention of one of the most interesting points connected with the mystery—the fact that the Cyclops carried as a passenger Alfred Louis Moreau Gottschalk, American consul general at Rio Janeiro and a man who had been instrumental in stirring up sentiment throughout Brazil in favor of the allied forces. A number of anonymous communications threatening his life had been received by the consul general prior to his return to the United States, in order to resume his commission in the Fifth regiment of New York, but the most startling fact of all was that within two weeks after the Cyclops sailed and at least a month before she was reported as missing a notice appeared in a Rio Janeiro newspaper stating that a requiem mass would be celebrated for the American consul general "lost at sea in the American collier Cyclops."

A number of Americans in Brazil noticed the announcement at the time and made inquiries about it, but the newspaper in question disclaimed any knowledge of the person who had inserted the notice and little attention was paid to it until word was received from the States that the collier was long overdue. American secret service agents then tried to trace the clue of the newspaper clipping, but the trail was too cold. The man who had brought it into the office of the newspaper had disappeared as completely as had the Cyclops!

Among the theories advanced for the failure of the vessel, seaworthy in the extreme, and in the best shape save for a minor accident to one of her engines, was that she had either been sunk by a German submarine or that she had been captured and taken into Germany in order that the central powers might have the benefit of the large cargo of manganese which she was carrying. One of the first acts of the American authorities after the signing of the armistice, therefore, was to examine all German records dealing with naval operations during the period of the war. But, while reference was made to the sinking of every vessel which had been torpedoed, together with the date of the attack and the name of the officer commanding the submarine or raider, no mention whatever was to be located concerning the Cyclops. If she fell a victim to a German submarine, it must have been one of those which failed to return to port, else German pride in the success of their campaign of frightfulness would have led to a permanent record of the exploit.

Inasmuch as no storm or even rough weather was reported in the West Indies at this time, the most tenable theory appears to be that of certain naval officers who maintain that the collier must have foundered through the sudden displacement of her cargo—manganese shifting with the ease and rapidity of a cargo of wheat. But, until the truth or falsity of this supposition is established by the discovery of some totally unexpected clue, the Cyclops must be numbered with the President, the Naronic, the City of Boston and the other vessels which have made the "port of missing ships." It is significant, however, that the Cyclops was the only vessel equipped with wireless that has ever disappeared without a trace or a whisper of trouble.

Urges Harbor Development

Development of Newport Harbor as the natural trade outlet of the Orange Empire, of which this is the center, was urged Tuesday afternoon by Julius Schneider, former industrial editor of the Los Angeles Times, and at present engaged in making an industrial survey of Southern California for the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, in an address before the members of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce at their weekly forum luncheon at the Hotpoint Club.

The speaker pointed out that conditions at the Los Angeles harbor were already badly congested, that an auxiliary harbor was fast becoming a necessity and that the importance of Newport Harbor to the Citrus Belt could not be overestimated. He expressed the belief that this section would shortly be called upon to aid in the development of the Orange County project, declaring it to be on the development program of what he characterized as one of the greatest economic movements in the history of the world, the upbuilding of the great southwest.

Mr. Schneider referred to the many thriving and important industrial cities which have sprung up in the territory surrounding the great industrial centers of New York and Chicago and declared the same thing is now in progress in the territory surrounding Los Angeles.

In closing the speaker impressed upon his hearers the fact that they are part and parcel of a great development movement.

Cecil A. James, editor of the Commercial News and prominently identified with the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, declared the development of Los Angeles harbor a boon to industry throughout Southern California and as a concrete instance of this, cited the case of the Edison Electric Appliance Company of Ontario, which is enabled with the use of the harbor and the Panama Canal to manufacture electrical appliances here and lay them down in New England in competition with eastern manufacturers.

The speaker pointed out that in the decade from 1910 to 1920, government census figures showed that one-third of all the people who crossed the Rocky Mountains to settle in the three Pacific Coast states took up their abode in a territory within a radius of 50 miles of Los Angeles.

Edgar Wight was luncheon chairman and was introduced by H. E. Swan, President of the Ontario Chamber.

Mercy With Justice

That justice is still tempered with mercy occasionally was proved Wednesday afternoon when Judge George R. Holbrook, in the police court, not only suspended the execution of a sentence of $10 fine or 10 days in jail, following a plea of guilty to a charge of begging on the streets, but handed the defendant over fifty cents from his own pocket with which to buy a meal.

H. C. Vanlandingham, giving his age as 31, and his residence as Kansas City, Mr., was arrested Tuesday night by Patrolman H. R. Smith. In court yesterday Vanlandingham admitted having asked aid to get something to eat. He told a straightforward story, however, reciting how he had worked three days for a south country rancher last week, but declared that he had tried in vain to get work since and that he had to eat. He declared that he was in ill-health, having been discharged from the army on account of physical disability, and that many jobs were too heavy for him. He recited how there had been delay in getting his bonus from the State of Missouri.

After listening to the story, the Judge declared himself loathe to send the man to jail, and after suspending sentence, dug in his pocket and produced the half-dollar, which Vanlandingham accepted with humble gratitude.

Firemen's Banquet

More than 100, including members of the department, city officials, their wives and guests, sat down Tuesday night to the annual banquet of the Ontario Fire Department, the first to be held in the commodious new fire station at Euclid Avenue and Transit Street.

Retiring Fire Chief Harry Nelsen and Arthur I. Peterson, department secretary, divided the honors as chairman of the evening, and the menu, of which 170 pounds of turkey was the principal item, was followed by a program of speeches and music. Captain Ernest Rhoads of the Los Angeles Fire Department, was the principal speaker of the evening, his subject being "Fire Prevention and Public Safety."

Other speakers included Mayor Willard D. Ball, the Rev. W. M. Perry and Edward J. McGready, new fire chief. O'Hara's Orchestra furnished music during the banquet, and others contributing to the program were the Rev. W. Earle Smith and Arthur Peterson.

Officers who are to serve the fire department during the coming year are: E. J. McGready, chief; Wm. Sanders, assistant chief; A. I. Peterson, secretary; Ed Holman, treasurer; R. F. Price, foreman truck No. 1; Charles Hadsell, foreman truck No. 2; Scott Webber and Paul Baer, drivers.

MAN LEAVES MONEY IN CLOTHES GIVEN TO POOR

A man by the name of Eric is being sought by members of the County Welfare Department, who have a considerable sum of money for him. The money may be claimed by communicating with the Welfare Department and identifying it.

Eric gave several suits of clothes to the Welfare Department last Friday. In looking them over, one of the employees of the department noticed something bulging in one of the pockets. Investigation proved that it was a letter containing a substantial amount of currency. The members of the department can identify the man, but do not know his address or any but his first name.

Interesting Facts

105,799 Ford Cars and Trucks

Retailed in December

Approximately the same number scheduled for delivery this month

What Does This Mean?

This volume of deliveries to actual owners is entirely unprecedented for this time of the year—

It has taxed the manufacturing ability of the Ford plants working at full capacity—

It indicates a volume of business during the rapidly approaching months of "heavy demand" which will be far beyond the maximum production schedule which the Ford Motor Company has set—

And that means a Ford shortage even more acute than the one which existed last Spring and Summer.

Dealers' stocks all over the country are low—there are no reserves to draw upon to meet the demands for delivery—

There is no way in which dealer reserves can be built up, as deliveries have been made to customers as fast as Cars could be manufactured since last April. The only way you can protect your desire to obtain prompt delivery of a Ford even at this time is to place your order immediately.

This emphasizes more strongly than anything we could possibly say the necessity of your making prompt arrangements with a Ford Dealer for the listing of your order, particularly if you are contemplating the purchase of a Ford Car or Truck for use this Spring or Summer.

We believe you are entitled to know these facts as they actually exist.

FASOLA SISTERS WIN ITALIAN FORTUNE

When Mrs. Maria B. Fasola, of Italy, died, she left a will stating that her fortune, amounting to some $50,000, invested in Italian silk mills, was not to be disposed of until 1922. The money was then to be divided in the following manner: The first grandchild to reach the age of 21 was to receive the bulk of the estate, while the first grandchild named for her was to receive one-fifth of the money. The grandchildren who are the beneficiaries are the Misses Celestina and Maria Fasola, daughters of Dr. Ferdinand Fasola, wealthy importer of Weehawken, N. J. Miss Celestina is now 21 years old, while her seventeen-year-old sister, is named Maria. The modest fortune which remained untouched for 50 years, now amounts to 15,000,000 lire, or $750,000 at the present rate of exchange. Left to right: Misses Celestina and Maria Fasola.

GOVERNOR CUTTING ALL STATE EXPENSE

Following the economy plan proposed to the people of the State of California by Governor Friend Wm. Richardson, Will H. Marsh, Chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles, announces the first big step in retrenchment in his Department.

This move contemplates the elimination of the Inspector's Department of the Division. Following out his plan, the Department will officially go out of business on Saturday, January 20th. All automobiles, and other equipment, that have been in use by the Inspectors throughout the State have been called in by Marsh and all employees of that department will be dropped from the payroll on that date except in a few cases where it is found desirable to use some of the employees in other departments of the Division.

In connection with this retrenchment move, the Chief of the Division states that he will deputize a few men from the inspector's force for purposes of enforcing registration. The number will probably not exceed three and they will be located one in Sacramento, one in San Francisco and one in Los Angeles. These men will in no wise be used for traffic or patrol duty. It is the contention of the department head that this feature of enforcement of the Motor Vehicle Act should be left to local authorities.

The expense of maintaining a department such as that which will cease to exist next Saturday has been found to be prohibitive. Figures compiled by Marsh set forth that fifteen inspectors employed by the Division during the past year have cost the Department approximately $77,000.00. 116 inspectors, or two for each county in the State, and operated at a like cost would mean an expenditure of $600,000.00. It is contended that a like number of men employed by the counties of the State at $125 per month salary, and with an expense account for motor cycles, gas and oils, and equipment necessary at another $100 per month, would mean that the same number of enforcing officers could be put in the field at a maximum cost of $290,000.00 per year.

The Division has purchased during the past two years automotive and other equipment for the inspector's department amounting to more than $20,000. This equipment will be stored until provision is made for its sale. Employees effected by the elimination of this department are as follows: Daphne Bottorff, R. C. Brewer, M. L. Britt, Michael F. Brown, E. L. Bruck, H. D. Cloughley, F. J. Duncan, George T. Gilroy, W. P. Greer, C. K. Harder, Marguerite Hoesch, Louis LaPlace, F. A. Leber, L. A. Manning, J. A. Morrison, Jr., G. F. Moynihan, Stephen Neal, F. S. Quinn, C. D. Reade, F. Vallejo, A. Van Eyk, C. H. Walker, F. T. Zimmerman; and the total amount of salary of these employees per month is $3640.00.

CLAIMS THAT DEER ATE APPLE TREES

Deer, roaming the hills under the protection of the California game reserve laws in the Seven Oaks district, stalked into litigation in Superior Judge Benjamin Warner's court room Wednesday, not literally, but figuratively speaking.

In the law suit, Fred A. Hill and R. H. Stetson, ranchers, asks $2,000 damages from F. P. Morrison, W. H. and Dudley Glass, owners of the Seven Oaks resort, alleging that the resort owners' cattle broke through a wire fence and ate scores of young apple trees. Some of the trees, their branches eaten away, were introduced as evidence by the ranchers.

But the cattle did not eat the young sprouts, the defendants claimed, asserting that it was the deer in the district and not the cattle that broke through the fences. Stetson, on cross-examination, admitted that he has seen deer in the vicinity of his ranch, but deer ate only the buds and foliage of the trees, according to his experience as a mountain rancher. Stetson also said a rancher in the district had complained to the forest supervisor for protection against deer and was told to "get a charge of buckshot for them."

The cattle owners will testify today. They are represented by Attorney Henry M. Willis, of Los Angeles; Attorneys U. F. Lewis, of Redlands, and Byron Waters, of San Bernardino, are appearing for Stetson and Hill.

MUSICAL PROGRAM AT ORANGE SHOW

Daily musical program to be given at the Thirteenth National Orange Show by Alfredo Thommasino's famous band, was announced in part by R. H. Mack, manager of the exposition yesterday.

Two major offerings will be given on each day of the mammoth citrus show and will be supported by a complete program of shorter selections.

On the opening day of the show the Anvil Chorus from Il Trovatore will be the main offering. For the evening program the ensemble of 125 artists offer Selections from Carmen.

Other noted features of the musical programs include a Sacred Concert to be given on the first Sunday of the exposition, a Future with Faust, Cavalleria Rusticana, Future with Aida, La Boheme, Pagliacci, and classic concertos. On one day the Panama-Pacific March, Mr. Thommasino's own composition, will be played.

"The securing of Thommasino's famous band for the Thirteenth National Orange Show has been received with acclaim by the press throughout Southern California," Mr. Mack said yesterday. "For the past eight years this large group of musicians, everyone of whom is a soloist in his own right, has been playing in this state, where they are probably more widely known than any other band in the country."

"While playing as the Municipal Band of Santa Monica for the past two years their programs have met with favorable criticism on the shores of both oceans."

"The band that will appear at the citrus exposition will be larger than that of the past, however. The Santa Monica Band numbered about 100 members, while that now practicing for the National Orange Show will have more than 125 instruments."

"Many of these musicians have played together since Mr. Thommasino came to California eight years ago. Always their work has met with commendation and the welcome words we are receiving from California's music lovers prove that there will be no exception in their appearance here."

Mr. Mack returned from Santa Ana Wednesday morning, where he met with the Orange County Board of Supervisors the day before. Orange County is planning a large feature entry for the fruit tent.

Millinery

Classes in spring millinery are starting now at Chaffey for the benefit of the ladies of the community. By enrolling now there is plenty of time to select a design and fashion a hat in the latest mode under the guidance of the millinery instructor. Hats of satin, taffeta, straw braid, georgette and the popular hair cloth are now being made. Special instruction in the making of transparent hats such as moline, horse-hair, black or gold lace is given.

Old hats may be remodeled and your own material used to bring the hat up to the present mode.

The schedule of classes is as follows:
Monday and Wednesday evenings, from 7 to 9, at Chaffey.
Tuesday evening, from 7 to 9, at Upland Grammar School.
Thursday evening, from 7 to 9, at Alta Loma.
Tuesday and Thursday afternoon, from 2:30 to 4:30, at Chaffey.

Class in Radio

This class meets each Wednesday evening in Room 18, Science Building. Registration is still open for this course. It will cover a period of five lessons and takes up the theoretical as well as the practical side of radio.

Class meets 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Citrus growers of the Upland-Ontario section will go to school beginning next Tuesday, January 9, and continuing every Tuesday evening for a period of three weeks. The subject will be "Diseases of Citrus Trees," and the instructor, Mr. H. R. Stanford, Plant Disease Specialist at Chaffey.

The classes will meet every Tuesday evening at seven o'clock, at Upland Grammar School, and continue for one hour. Those subjects will be studied of vital interest to every citrus grower of the community. There are a very large number of diseased citrus trees in this and every other citrus-growing locality and there is no doubt of the fact that production could be greatly increased if these injured trees were taken care of. A great deal of money has been spent hiring people from the outside for work which the grower, if he were informed, could just as well do himself, and it is the object of the instructor in this course to give such information as every grower needs in matters of this kind.

More than 75 citrus growers attended the six weeks' course recently completed and it is expected that a large number will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Mr. Stanford beginning next week.

Chaffey Community Symphony Orchestra

One of the greatest musical projects of this community will be a large orchestra of adults from this and surrounding sections. Some very fine talent is located here and the public can be sure of hearing some good reports from this larger orchestra. There has been an enrollment of over 35 members to date, and it will easily reach 50 by the second rehearsal.

A get-together banquet is planned for the near future.

The Auditorium at Chaffey will be used for rehearsing and Chaffey will furnish all music for the organization.

Be sure to attend.
Class meets each Monday evening.

Afternoon Short Courses

I.—Elementary Polychrome, January 8—February 7. Course 9 lessons (4 1/2 weeks), beginning Monday, 2:30 p.m., January 8. The class meets on Mondays and Wednesdays, from 2:30 p.m. to 4:45 p.m.
II.—Advanced Polychrome, February 12—March 14. Course 9 lessons (4 1/2 weeks). This class is open to all students who have taken the elementary course and are interested in more difficult phases of the work. Beginning Monday, February 12, 2:30 p.m. The class meets Mondays and Wednesdays, from 2:30 p.m. to 4:45 p.m.
III.—Costume Design and Art Embroidery, March 19—May 17. Course 18 lessons (9 weeks). This course is devoted to lecture and laboratory work. The lecture work deals with costume as an applied art and includes the study of line, form, color and texture as best suited to the individual. The embroidery work will include decorative stitches as applied to dress trimming. A costume will be designed and made during this time.

IV.—Interior Decoration, May 21—June 13. Course of 9 lessons (4 1/2 weeks), Monday, Wednesday, 2:30-4:45 p.m. Course includes fundamental principles of art on which decoration is based as applied to the home. The aim of the course is to give ideas for decorating homes so as to obtain the greatest amount of beauty for the least expenditure.

Dress Making

7:00 to 9:00 p.m., Monday, Miss Chaffey.
The use of commercial patterns and their alteration will be studied. The course will include the making of simple garments and the remodeling of old garments.

An advanced course will follow this course if the demand warrants it. The class will be conducted if fifteen register, and it will be limited to twenty-five. It will not be necessary to bring materials the first lesson.

Table Setting and Serving

7:00 to 9:00 p.m., Wednesday, Miss Graves.

This course will include the study of food principles, the combination of foods and the making of menus. Meals will be prepared and served in our new practice apartment, "The Cozy Corner."

An attendance of fifteen will be expected in order to carry on the class, and it will be limited to eighteen.

ANNUAL MEETING AND BANQUET

ever on the lookout for details of service that make for a better city.

The Upland Chamber of Commerce has given serious consideration to the problem of securing a full-time secretary for the community, and hopes that such may be done in the near future.

The menu was as follows:

Upland Orange Punch
Head Lettuce
Thousand Island Dressing
Cheese Straws
Upland Chicken Fricassee and Gravy
Mashed Potatoes
Peas and Carrots en Timbales
Upland Rolls and Butter
William Atchley's Upland Orange Blossom Honey
Sunkist Jelly
Graber's Chaffey Olives
Upland Apple Pie a la mode
Cafe Noir

If there ever was any doubt in the mind of President G. A. Hanson, regarding whether his work in behalf of the city of Upland has been appreciated, that doubt should now be eliminated, for in the ballots sent out previous to the annual meeting by which directors were to be nominated, the members showed their appreciation of Mr. Hanson's work most thoroughly, for President Hanson received sixty votes, while the largest number of votes received by any other member was sixteen. Mr. Hanson has spent a vast amount of time and energy in behalf of the city and at times he became discouraged in the work feeling that perhaps members of the Chamber of Commerce preferred that he retire. But the vote he received speaks very plainly indeed.

The eighteen directors as chosen last night were:

Glen M. Atwood
O. E. Atwood
Chas. V. Barr
W. K. Beattie
L. R. Bradley
O. P. Brady
Mayor F. C. Buffington
Clyde D. DuVall
E. W. Fischer
G. A. Hanson
H. B. Harlow
R. F. Lemon
E. C. Mehl
H. C. Moore
Wm. Springer
H. S. Wilson
Merton E. Hill
R. C. Norton

The Board of Directors will probably organize at the regular meeting the first Tuesday in February.

Radio, through the courtesy of the Mehl Hardware Co., with E. C. Mehl and David Bradford operating the powerful instrument, supplied the entertainment of the evening, and not only did the diners enjoy the radio concert as provided by the Los Angeles Times broadcasting station, but greetings from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, by courtesy of the Los Angeles Examiner were received at the dinner at 8:40 p. m.

To the surprise of all Upland's own broadcasting station came on the wire and it was some minutes before the audience caught on to the fact that a quartette was imitating the real radio. E. W. Fischer presided as the announcer and the program as given by the imitators was greeted with hearty applause. The members of the quartette were: R. F. Lemon, S. Earle Blakeslee, E. W. Fischer and A. C. Beattie.

Fred Wilding's Chaffey orchestra and Joseph Tuescher, whistler, added much to the musical program and their selections were heartily enjoyed.

The new Home Economics Bldg. at Chaffey furnished a splendid setting for the gathering. Twenty large tables were arranged in the form of a "U", and were bright with favors in orange and green. These colors were repeated in the mountain shrubbery and brilliant flowers.

A dozen smudge pots were appropriately used as floor vases for great masses of Acaia bloom. That the dinner was truly an Upland product was shown in the menu by the list of Upland fruit, honey and bakery goods. The chicken was unusually fine, because it was an Upland product. The generous individual servings of William Atchley's A-1 Orange Blossom Honey in unique wrappings were the gift of Mr. Atchley, whose honey is carrying the name of Upland throughout the land. Baskets of flowers from the Upland Florist, gave a beautiful touch to the speaker's table.

Fruit furnished by Mountain View and Upland Citrus Association.
